Created an innovative global practice and furthered the art and business of architecture by blending entrepreneurial vision and a partnering attitude with design excellence. Initiated and implemented a plan for expansion into the global market as a hedge against declining domestic opportunities, a strategy that has resulted in the firm's emergence as a prominent 900-person multi-national organization with 13 offices worldwide, and a portfolio that extends to 60 nations. Determination to extend quality design into new markets, coupled with keen business acumen, was instrumental in positioning the firm to achieve $131 million in gross billings in 2000, propelling RTKL rank to 4th in World Architecture Magazine's annual survey of the top 300 international design firms.

A management style that encourages free-thinking, innovative solutions, and cutting edge design, while also emphasizing client service and a collaborative team approach has resulted in design of the highest quality and added client value.
