I am a software and systems expert and technical executive with 30 years of experience in computer, telecommunications, network security, and SaaS/Cloud platforms. I have led development and QA teams in architecting, developing, and deploying a multi-tenant SaaS-based vulnerability management platform and scanning solution which is being used worldwide by Fortune 500 organizations as part of their ongoing cyber defense programs.

I currently serve as a software intellectual property and due diligence consultant focusing on software patents & trade secrets, software development best-practices, and digital copyright/code theft.

Professional Accomplishments

- Expert in software with 30 years of experience as an engineer and programmer.
- Investigated over 1.2TB of wireless technology code and identified key infringing software related to patent litigation cases.
- Granted three software patents related to cyber-security scanning, correlating and management; US 9667643, US 9667642, US08938531.
- Architected, designed, and lead team in emergence of multi-tenant vulnerability management solution now handling millions of scans per week.
- Presented and evangelized cyber-security technology solutions at many conferences including RSA, ISC2 Security Congress, ISSA International Conference, Many USA BSides Conferences.

Professional Experience

Quandary Peak Research

Principal Software Consultant | Austin, TX | July 2021–Present

Bringing my computer science, software architecture and strong source code implementation knowledge to bear, in serving Quandary Peak clients such as investors, private equity firms, and companies pursuing mergers, acquisitions, IP Litigation and more.

- Researching patents and related technologies for investigating patent infringement cases.
- Searching through millions of lines of software and finding source code related to patent claims.
- Assisting in writing expert testimonial reports related to patent infringement cases.
- Evaluating software architectures of various products and assessing overall characteristics, strengths and weaknesses.
- Analyzing source code to opine on various software characteristics such as scalability, interoperability, security and extensibility.
- Utilizing a suite of tools to programmatically detect and inventory the presence of open-source software and potential exposure to problematic open-source licenses, code similarities, and security vulnerabilities.
- Interfacing with Private Equity, VC, and other clients, as well as executives/technical team from target companies.
- Documenting and conveying technical findings to clients in the form of formal reports and/or executive briefings.

Digital Defense, Inc.

Executive Vice President and Chief Technology Officer | San Antonio, TX | Jan 2010–Apr 2021

Spearhead, develop and maintain DDI's technology roadmap by teaming up with others: cross functional DDI teams, 3rd party technology partners, and most of all, with DDI clients. Oversee, manage, encourage, help DDI's Technology team in emerging and delivering valuable integration solutions between frontline vulnerability management platform and other IT and security technologies.

- Successfully managed, guided, mentored and acted as player/coach with multiple technology teams, including feature development, vulnerability research, and quality assurance team by steering operational efficiency.
- Served as Agile Product Owner for the DDI Technology Integrations team, helping define the team's stories, prioritizing the team's backlog, interfacing with DDI Product Management and the Executive team to ensure effective prioritization of integrations on the roadmap.
- Interfaced and socialized with DDI clients and prospects to understand and negotiate requirements for integrations between DDI's vulnerability management platform, and IT/security solutions thereby helping clients reduce operations spend by 20%.
- Spearheaded vulnerability management gamification idea within the Frontline VM platform which enabled Digital Defense to anonymously compare client risk scores and influence the entire ecosystem to minimize security risk.
- Developed, interacted and worked with a legal team, and ultimately attained 3 patents for DDI's vulnerability scanning and management technology.
- Worked side-by-side and contributed to DDI's Marketing arm by serving as key spokesperson for DDI's solutions. Presented on security related topics at many security conferences, including RSA security, ISC2 Security Congress, ISSA International Conference, Many USA BSides Conferences, while highlighting across media and security articles including, Forbes, Fox Business News, CIO review, SoftPedia, and IT World Canada and leading DDI blog website www.digitaldefense.com

Vice President, Platform Development | Digital Defense, Inc. | San Antonio, TX | Jan 2006–Jan 2010

Partnered, managed, guided and mentored a large team of developers to develop security features for frontline vulnerability management platform as well as engaged with clients and internal stakeholders to consolidate feature requirements, set priorities and meet expectations.

- Served, managed and mentored a large team of software developers, vulnerability researchers, and QA team members in the development, delivery and ongoing maintenance of DDI's products.
- Spearheaded deployment of key DDI frontline features, including application-level encryption of cloud data, requiring expert familiarity with symmetric and asymmetric encryption.
- Oversaw maintenance and execution of relational data architecture model for all vulnerability management software features.
- Developed security features for SaaS based Frontline platform by directing DDI development organization.
