

The nation's leading university experts, all in one place.

Elite Medical Experts

Elite Medical Experts specializes in aligning top-tier experts for complex claims and litigation. Our in-house, physician-led Case Strategy Team works closely with clients to develop strategic and tactical insight, and we hand select leading university subject matter authorities, as well as impeccably sourced private-practice experts, across every medical and surgical field. Each expert holds ABMS Board Certification, serves on the faculty of a major medical university and/or maintains a highly active private clinical practice, and carries impeccable credentials. Elite transcends databases by proactively aligning subject matter authorities from top-tier universities and respected private practices whom we identify, research, interview, and place based on the unique preferences of the client and requirements of the case. With thousands of engagements across the U.S. and internationally, Elite delivers unmatched expertise for every conceivable challenge.
