

John T. McMahan, MD, FACS
Founder & Principal Consultant
McMahan Consulting Group

John T. McMahan, MD, FACS
2263 Randall Road, Suite 311
Carpentersville, IL 60110
Phone: (805) 709-3886
Email: goldcoastpro@gmail.com

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am a board-certified Otolaryngologist–Head and Neck Surgeon with more than 40 years of clinical, surgical, academic, and consulting experience in comprehensive ENT practice, including longstanding specialization in rhinology, sinus disease, thyroid and parathyroid disorders, airway pathology, laryngology, sleep-related breathing disorders, otology, and office-based ENT procedures. As Founder and Principal Consultant of McMahan Consulting Group, I provide expert witness services, medical record review, standard-of-care analysis, causation assessment, litigation support, and physician advisory services for both plaintiff and defense counsel. My background includes fellowship training in Head & Neck Oncology, prior academic appointment at Northwestern University, extensive private-practice experience, and ongoing involvement in complex medical and surgical case evaluation. Throughout my career, I have managed a broad spectrum of otolaryngologic conditions and have worked closely with multidisciplinary teams including sleep medicine specialists, neurologists, allergists, radiologists, endocrinologists, pulmonologists, and head and neck surgeons. My experience includes review of approximately 25 medico-legal matters, participation in approximately 20 depositions, and trial testimony in complex otolaryngology-related litigation. In addition to my personal areas of expertise—including rhinology and sinus surgery, thyroid and parathyroid surgery, recurrent laryngeal nerve injury, airway management, sleep-disordered breathing, and postoperative complication analysis—McMahan Consulting Group assists attorneys and organizations in identifying and coordinating highly qualified experts across a broad range of medical and professional disciplines when multidisciplinary expertise is required. I am accustomed to reviewing extensive medical records, synthesizing findings from multiple specialties, and providing clinically grounded, well-supported opinions. I would welcome the opportunity to assist your organization with expert consultation, case review, and testimony services. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

John T. McMahan, MD, FACS
Founder & Principal Consultant
McMahan Consulting Group